Brand New Book ***** Print on Demand *****.Excerpt from A Letter on the Corn Laws, to the Manchester Chamber of Commerce But you have a hard battle to fight; and although I consider success, in the end, undoubted, if your cause be well conducted and steadily followed up, still, you ought not to neglect any means whereby your opponents can be won over, or the legislature convinced. New arguments on this long debated subject are not to be expected; but the deliberate record of the opinion of those who cannot be suspected of having their judgment biased by pecuniary interests, and whose mind has long been turned to the subject, may not be without its use. For myself, I can with truth say, that time, reflection, and that cooler and calmer judgment, which retirement from the active scenes of public life produces, have only tended, still more strongly to impress my mind with a conviction of the extreme impolicy of the existing corn law, whether considered with reference to its immediate effect on the well being of the mass of the people, or to...
